

The background of the page is a repeating pattern of watermelon slices and pomegranates. The watermelon slices are shown in various orientations, some as wedges and some as semi-circles, with a dark green rind and black seeds. The pomegranates are depicted as whole fruits with a crown-like top and a yellowish-red interior filled with small red seeds. The entire pattern is set against a light teal background. A large white circle is positioned in the upper center of the page, partially overlapping the pattern.
